Dear all,

This Friday we have just a tiny bit of information for you:

We are putting together the moderators teams for the videoconferences. Part of the CERN team is already here: <http://physicsmasterclasses.org/index.php?cat=schedule#moderators> . Are you curious who will be in your videoconference? In Feb, moderators will pick their dates and we will update the schedule with this information.

If you have colleagues who will be at CERN or at Fermilab during March or early April, they might consider being a moderator. In that case, please let us know.

Kind regards,
Uta + Ken
